

What are allergies REALLY costing you?

Allergy drops — paid out of pocket — might cost you less than prescriptions and treatment covered by insurance!

The good news is that treating the cause of your allergies using allergy drops is affordable, in addition to being safe, effective, and a convenient way to change the course of allergy! See for yourself.

MONTHLY COSTS

MEDICATIONS

What are you spending monthly on nasal sprays, eye drops, inhalers, antihistamines, skin creams, etc.?

Allergy prescriptions = $ _____

Over-the-counter allergy products = $ _____

MISSED WORK

How many hours of work do you miss each month due to allergy illness, appointment, or hospitalization time?

_____ # hours

x

$ _____ hourly pay rate = $ _____

MEDICAL VISITS

How many allergy-related hospital, clinic and/or ER visits do you have each month (sinusitis, dermatitis, hives, chronic ear infections, asthma issues, allergy shots, etc.)?

_____ # visits x $ _____ out of pocket co-pay(s) = $ _____

ESTIMATED TOTAL MONTHLY COST: $ _____

Other allergy costs:

- Travel — gas, flights, hotel, etc.
- Air purifiers
- Bed coverings, pillows, etc.
- Medical co-pay
- Insurance deductible

Average cost for an inhalant allergy drop prescription:

Less than $40*/mo.

SAVE TIME, MONEY & YOUR HEALTH!

Most patients find their need for other prescriptions to manage symptoms decrease once they start allergy drops. And there are generally fewer follow up visit costs, and less time lost from work/school.

Allergy drops typically qualify for Health Savings Account or Flex Spending reimbursement.

So, what are you waiting for? Talk to us today to learn how to take control of your allergies!

*Allergy drop prescriptions for the average patient cost less than $40/month for inhalants, and less than $50/month for foods. Treatment typically lasts 3-5 years.

