

Allergy Treatment for Back to School Social Media Wording Options

Option 1

Sublingual immunotherapy or personalized allergy drops created specifically for your child are an easy, safe, convenient, and effective treatment option for kids. Call <Practice Name> to make an appointment for an allergy evaluation.

Option 2 <use plan image>

Do you have an allergy plan for your child? Food Allergy Research & Education (FARE) has a food allergy & anaphylaxis emergency care plan available: <http://www.foodallergy.org/faap>

Option 3

If you suspect your child has allergies and you can't figure out how to fit in weekly allergy treatment, try personalized allergy drops under the tongue. Easy to do and they go where you go. Call <Practice Name> for an allergy evaluation.

Option 4

Active lifestyles and school do not have to prevent allergy treatment. Treat the root cause of allergies with custom allergy drops given under the tongue. Call <practice phone number> today for more information.

Option 5

Getting children to allergy appointments can be hard with school, music, dance, sports, tutoring, etc. Make your life easier with personalized allergy drop treatment. Call <Practice> for more details.

Option 6

Don't let your child's asthma prevent them from being part of things. If allergies are the trigger, personalized allergy drops may reduce symptoms safely. Contact us for details.